THANKSGIVING MULTICULTURAL MASS MISA MULTICULTURAL DE ACCION DE GRACIAS

THURSDAY NOVEMBER 23RD, 2023 - 9:00am

Bring bread and wine that will later share with family and friends for a special blessing.

Traiga el pan y el vino que después va a compartir con su familia y amigos para que sean bendecidos.

There is a wrong way to interpret today's parable of the Talents. Some might think that Jesus is telling us that we are supposed to earn our salvation by our own activity, our works. But Jesus is not saying that. He is not saying that if we pray a certain number of Rosaries and light a certain number of candles, we will then deserve entrance into heaven.

In fact, the idea that we can earn our own salvation has been formally condemned as a heresy - the heresy of Pelagianism. Pelagius, a fourth-century monk, thought we could overcome evil, temptation, and the damage of original sin just by our own efforts. And he was wrong; our efforts are useless without God's grace.

If we look carefully at today's parable, we see that the activity of the servants is necessary, but secondary. The primary agent of success is the master. He gives his servants an opportunity to try and make good use of their talents. He also hands out the talents themselves in the first place. They didn't earn their original talents; they received them from the master's goodness.

It's like that in our relationship with Christ. He gives us life, the world, our faith, forgiveness, the sacraments, our talents - innumerable gifts. And if we use them well, they will serve their purpose, which is to bring us closer to him, to fill our minds with wisdom and our hearts with joy, here on earth and forever in heaven.

If we abuse those gifts, we can cut off our relationship with the one who gave them to us. But in either case, we are the secondary agents of success; we can't earn salvation; we can only receive the gift of God's grace and put it to good use.

Have a Blessed Sunday!

Hay una manera equivocada de interpretar la parábola de los Talentos de hoy. Algunos podrían pensar que Jesús nos está diciendo que se supone que debemos ganar nuestra salvación mediante nuestra propia actividad, nuestras obras. Pero Jesús no está diciendo eso. No está diciendo que si rezamos un cierto número de rosarios y encendemos un cierto número de velas, entonces mereceremos la entrada al cielo.

De hecho, la idea de que podemos ganarnos nuestra propia salvación ha sido condenada formalmente como una herejía: la herejía del pelagianismo. Pelagio, un monje del siglo IV, pensaba que podíamos vencer el mal, la tentación y el daño del pecado original sólo con nuestros propios esfuerzos. Y se equivocó; Nuestros esfuerzos son inútiles sin la gracia de Dios.

Si vemos atentamente en la parábola de hoy, vemos que la actividad de los siervos es necesario, pero secundario. El principal agente del éxito es el maestro. Él da a sus servidores la oportunidad de intentar hacer buen uso de sus talentos. También reparte los talentos en primer lugar. No obtuvieron sus talentos originales; los recibieron de la bondad del maestro.

Es así en nuestra relación con Cristo. Él nos da la vida, el mundo, nuestra fe, el perdón, los sacramentos, nuestros talentos, dones innumerables. Y si los usamos bien, cumplirán su propósito, que es acercarnos a él, llenar nuestra mente de sabiduría y nuestro corazón de alegría, aquí en la tierra y para siempre en el cielo.

Si abusamos de esos regalos, podemos cortar nuestra relación con quien nos los dio. Pero en cualquier caso, somos los agentes secundarios del éxito; no podemos ganarnos la salvación; sólo podemos recibir el don de la gracia de Dios y darle un buen uso.

¡Que tengan un Bendecido Domingo!

“Family First” / “La Familia Primero”

by Fr. Gabriel Augustine, MF

Five Characteristics of the Catholic Family

1. Catholic families worship together: The Eucharist is the source of our love and intimacy. Therefore as a family, we attend Mass together on Sundays and holy days. We struggle to be loving people; therefore, we regularly (monthly) go to confession.
2. Catholic family pray together: We cannot love one another as God loves us unless we ask him to teach us what love means. We gather as husband and wife, as family for prayer each day.
3. Catholic families are called to intimacy: We constantly seek the ways to be more open with and loving toward each other. We cultivate practices that all the members of family are willing to open- up to one another and to give themselves freely.
4. Catholic families put family first: Family life itself is the most important activity in our week. It is important to have regular family rituals like family dinners, family prayers, family day, and game nights.
5. Catholic family is a witness and a sign: God wants to change the world through our families. We carry love outside the home by serving the world. We commit to Corporal and Spiritual Works of Mercy at home and outside.

Cinco características de la Familia católica

1. Las familias católicas adoran juntas: La Eucaristía es la fuente de nuestro amor e intimidad. Por eso, como familia, asisten juntos a Misa los domingos y días santos. Luchan por ser personas amorosas; por lo tanto, se confiesan regularmente (mensualmente).
2. Las Familias católicas rezan juntas: No podemos amarnos unos a otros como Dios nos ama a menos que le pidamos que nos enseñe lo que significa el amor. Se reúnen como esposos, como familia, para orar cada día.
3. Las Familias católicas están llamadas a la intimidad: Buscan constantemente formas de ser más abiertos y amarse unos a otros. Cultivan prácticas que todos los miembros de la familia están dispuestos a abrirse unos a otros y a entregarse libremente.
4. Las Familias católicas ponen a la familia en primer lugar: La vida familiar en sí es la actividad más importante de su semana. Es importante tener rituales familiares regulares como cenas familiares, oraciones familiares, días familiares y noches de juegos.
5. Las Familias católicas son testimonio y signo: Dios quiere cambiar el mundo a través de nuestras familias. Llevamos el amor fuera del hogar sirviendo al mundo. Nos comprometemos a realizar Obras de Misericordia Corporales y Espirituales dentro y fuera del hogar.
